Subject: Consumers energy smart meter

I moved into the house I'm in, in late August 2017. The bills were running between $55 And $70 till I got my bill in January 2018. My previous months bill was $55 And the bill that came in January jumped to $305. I called consumers energy and they tried telling me it was from a cold December and an extra 4 days on the billing cycle. Well I heat with a wood pellet stove that has been on the same setting since I started it in October. My oldest son heats with a wood stove and his bill jumped almost doubled and my youngest son also heats with a wood pellet stove and his consumers bill went from $166 to $260 in the same time period in a house i lived in for 26 years and never had a bill over $170.
I hope something comes of this investigation.

Thank you
David Austin
